

I subscribe to Satellite Radio and feel that, as a subscriber and citizen, I am entitled to the most up to date weather and traffic announcements while on the road. If I am to be restricted to those announcements by stations over the normal air waves, then they should provide both constant and consistence weather and traffic announcements. I doubt that they would do this though because it would mean upgrading their services, when it appears that all they want is to provide inferior services and have it be a no cost item to them. Times and technology are changing, I think it's time for the old stations to improve or get off the airwaves. Thank you.
